

#1

two-bit magazine

edited by

Matthew Ostapchuk Williams

design and layout also by

Matthew Ostapchuk Williams

mission

Two-Bit Magazine seeks to publish the work of talented, emerging writers and artists side by side with new work from veterans.

the smallprint

Two-Bit Magazine currently exists exclusively online. All design elements and images are the sole property of Matthew Ostapchuk Williams, with the exception of work submitted by or requested from other artists. First north american serial rights copyright Two-Bit Magazine. Upon publication, all rights revert back to the author or artist. None of the materials in Two-Bit Magazine may be duplicated without the express permission of the author or artist except for use in a review.

copyright by

Matthew Ostapchuk Williams 2009

ISSN xxxx-xxxx

special thanks

for their support:

Chester College of New England
<http://www.chestercollege.edu>

Eric Crapo (editor, Collective Fallout)
<http://collectivefallout.com>

Professor Jenn Monroe

for directing so many pageviews and writers
our way:

Denise Hill (editor, NewPages)
<http://www.newpages.com>

Louie Crew (professor emeritus, rutgers)
<http://andromeda.rutgers.edu/~lcrew/pbonline.html>

Allison Joseph (moderator, crwropps-b)
<http://groups.yahoo.com/group/crwropps-b>

and, of course:

Everyone who was awesome enough to submit work for the inaugural issue of Two-Bit Magazine.

[ənk]* font by Brän/Fractal Eye, dafont.com

for submission guidelines and more info, visit our website: <http://www.twobitmagazine.com>